“THE GENTLEMEN’S SOCIETY”

Saturday, February 6, 2010

10:00am to 1:00pm

Teen boys ages 13 and up / Registration $150

What constitutes a gentleman these days is not as easily defined as it once was. Modern society has made things a bit more complicated for our young impressionable boys. “The Gentlemen’s Society” is an important program to assist these young men as they navigate the waters into adulthood. Topics such as appropriate gestures to make on a first date or selecting an appropriate outfit for a college interview and knowing how to make polite conversation at a party are just some of the useful and valuable skills that are covered during the program.

“The Gentlemen’s Society” is a 3-hour course that will encourage the teenage boy to have greater awareness and confidence as he grows into maturity. By learning and applying these essential and practical skills, he is guaranteed to achieve overall success in each of his endeavors.

Program Highlights Include:

- Image/style/grooming/dress codes for success
- Making a positive first impression
- Art of Introductions/handshake/eye contact/smile
- Social networking and conversation techniques
- Writing instruments/thank you notes
- Speech/diction and presentation skills
- Email and online manners/netiquette
- Interviewing skills for college or a summer job
- Goal setting and time management
- Dating and chivalrous behavior
- Proper table and dining manners for all occasions
- 5-course tutorial luncheon
